

At the Rock and Roll Show

It starts with drums and a rumble,
Also the cymbals go tang.
The giant bass goes a-grumble
And the guitar explodes with a bang.

As soon as the singer stops singing,
The crowd cheers out in applause.
And after the storm of the clapping,
There is a dead-silent pause.

After that, they played new songs,
New tings, new tongs.
And after they finished their 45th song,
The crowd went home and the line was long!
