

A Moment in Time

---

Every moment in time is a moment gone.

Comes and goes, can't be tracked.

Every word said is forever there.

It can never truly be taken back.

Every action done is an action past,

What's done is done.

Every sight you see is a sight that's seen,

Like the rising and setting sun.

Those special moments that we shared,

And ones that will come to pass.

Remember those moments with nostalgia,

And look forward when they come, at last.
